MILLER & RHOADS

Weather Forecast-Wednesday, fair; variable winds.

Our Special Silk Sale Begins Wednesday Morning.

This sale offers unusual opportunities for the ladies of Richmond to buy the newest and best of this season's silks at Miller & Rhoads' prices---

Which means better silks than can be had elsewhere for the same money. During this sale we might advertise $1.00 silks for 75c and $1.50 silks for $1.00. We prefer you to be the judge of these extraordinary values. We know we've secured extra good silks for you at the prices we mention, and you can feel secure in your buying.

We began our preparations some time ago for an extensive silk sale at this time in October. Our arrangements are now complete and the sale will start on Wednesday morning.

There's no trouble at all to buy and sell plenty of silks-and pretty good qualities, too-at what are called "popular prices"—but siks such as we have in this sale are not found on every corner in the silk market. Many of them have to be searched for-and a diligent search it is, too, especially in the case of some that are manufactured in limited quantities.

Our buyer buys his whole stock of silks with the same care that a woman selects a dress pattern. No hap-hazard business about it. All the different wearing conditions of the various silks are carefully weighed and tested by him, and there's many a thing about these goods that he knows that not one woman in a hundred thinks about. You get the benefit of this skilled knowledge in buying here and we don't charge you for anything but the silk.

INAUGURATE FIGHT

The Move for Higher License Arouses Sellers of Whiskey.

With much bitterness the liquor men of the city have decided to fight to a hot finish the proposition of Councilman Crenshaw to raise the license tax of saloons to $1,000. With this idea in view, they have undertaken an individual fight against the Virginia State Insurance Company, with which Mr. Crenshaw is connected, and this battle amounts to little less than a boycott of the company by the bar men.

Yesterday morning, when it became generally known that Mr. Crenshaw had introduced such a measure, consternation was created in the camp of the whiskey men, and throughout the day it was the one topic of conversation among them. No effort was made to perfect an or-No chort was made to perfect an or-nenization, but it was the idea of all that the fight should be conducted along a new line. They would strike back at the patron of the measure. This was the general sentiment of the dealers. Accordingly, it was decided to cancel all insurance policies held by the Virginia State Insurance Company, thus hoping to compel Mr. Crenshaw to let up in his movement for a higher license. Mr. E. A. Stumpf, proprietor of a saloon and cafe at the correct of Main and oon and cafe at the corner of Main and Eighth Streets, inaugurated the move-ment by requesting the cancellation of $2,000 worth of policies with the com-pany, and this is expected to be followed by numerous others, Mr. Stumpf having stated that he controlled between $20,000 and $30,000 worth of fire insurance. Mr. Crenshaw is very sorry that the liquor men have decided to conduct the fight against his resolution along these lines, but states that in the end it will work to the benefit of his higher licen measure. He says that regardless of the boycott of the company with which he is employed he will push the fight to the

The patron of the measure is very sanguine of success, stating that he feels certain the Finance Committee will return a favorable report upon the reso-lution. He also anticipates a strong backing in the Common Council when the final vote is taken,

RICHMOND IS ANOTHER SODOM

Baptist Ministers Gather Facts About Municipal Affairs.

DR. JAS. TAYLOR MAY RETURN

tion-Religious Notes.

The Baptist ministers of Richmond are quietly making investigations into the nunicipal situation and are gathering facts and data to be used as the basis for a determined movement, the exact nature of which cannot now be learned. When everything is in shape some pronouncement will be made, but meanwhile the utmost secrecy guards their deliberations.

The Baptist Ministers' Conference which meets each week, is made the focus for the individual investigations made by the several members. At the meeting held Monday morning a full and free discussion of the situation was engaged in and several statements were made of facts which had come into the speakers hands. Each thus made the thers acquainted with such as he had others acquainted with such as he had gathered. Though there was a unity of sentiment on the condition of affairs and though overy minister is in line with the movement, the members of the Conference before they adjourned, pledged themselvs to secrecy. The time, they declare, is not yet ripe. When they decide upon some definite plan of action, which will doubtless be soon, some public statement will be made.

As a result of this determination it is mpossible to learn the character of the information in the hands of the min-isters or to get any idea of just what is contemplated. That the statements made yesterday were startling cannot, however, be doubted. One of the most conservative members of the conference, not ordinarily given to strong expressions, but who in this instance has made some original investigations of his own, heard what the others said and then, it is reported, declared "I can sum it up in a word; we have in Richmond anther Sodom."

The Rev. James B. Taylor, D. D., a well-known Baptist minister of Atlanta, Ga., will in all probability return to Vir-ginia and take up work in this city. He already being consulted with reference
